

GTX Pirate Wine

Calatayud

No grape variety, no origin, no vintage... it is like it denominates itself this wine that was born with the aspiration to be enjoyed for what it is. A wine born from the union of friends, in the setting of old vines with a purpose: To achieve a wine with stronger emotions than the norm, routine and establishment. That is how (GTX)*, an old vine Garnacha, untamed, wild, hot, profound and above all soulful was born.

The story began during a conversation between one of the members of the Mallorcan winery Ànima Negra and a winery owning friend in Penedès. In this chat he said that he had some very old vines in the Calatayud (Aragón) region, at an altitude of between 900 & 1,100 metres, with differing orientations from which he had never made a single wine. The singularity of the countryside, the richness of the soils, the old vine Garnachas (GTX)* co-inhabiting with the aromatic herbs, the extreme gradients that are so difficult to access.... Form the perfect paradise to be able to think about elaborating something truly unique under the Terra de Falanis umbrella.

GTX, a pirate wine, but very legal

From there was born (GTX)*, a wine made from emotions, for love of the work and sustainable nature, for passion of a life and for the determination to transmit a truth. The price to pay was to lose any quality categorisation for the wine as it was decided to transport the grapes from the vineyard to a winery in the Penedès area to be elaborated there in a 2000 litre French oak cask of the bodega Ànima Negra only used once before where it was aged for over a year.

The result is a very distinctive wine, wild yet delicate at the same time, rustic yet elegant, structured and surprising... A wine with personality, an overwhelming personality that is impossible not to like, a rule breaker but with the ideas very clear. A wine that transmits everything you need to know for those that try it. Why does everything have to be said with words afterall?

We believe that these details are enough to get enjoyment from (GTX)*, a wine unprotected of information but absolutely full of arguments to exist and to be enjoyed.
